Strategy Notes

This Wildcard draft prioritizes season-balanced selection:

- Players chosen based on long-term metrics (PPG, total points, minutes)
- Cheap bench strategy to maximize starting XI quality
- Fixtures are considered but don't dominate selection
- All players are currently available (no injuries/susensions)

Note: This is a suggested squad based on current data. Always verify player availability and news before activating your Wildcard.

Strategy Guide

- Safe/Template: Best if you're protecting a lead in your mini-league. Minimizes variance.
- Balanced: Good all-round choice. Template core with upside from differentials.
- Aggressive/Differential: Best if you're chasing. Higher risk but can gain significant ground.

Season Position: First Half (GW1-19) — Chips Remaining: 3/4

Strategic Chip Planning

The 2025-26 season features two sets of chips - one for each half (GW1-19 and GW20-38). Unused chips from the first half do NOT carry over, so plan accordingly.

Wildcard Strategy

- First Half (GW7-9): Use around fixture swings when multiple premium players need replacing
- Second Half (GW30-32): Prepare for late-season Double Gameweeks and navigate rotation
- Key Trigger: When 4+ transfers are needed or major template shift occurs

Free Hit Strategy

- Target: Blank Gameweeks when your team has 6+ players without fixtures
- Alternative: Use during a favorable DGW if Bench Boost is already used
- Avoid: Using too early - save for fixture congestion in spring

Bench Boost Strategy

- Ideal Setup: All 15 players have double fixtures in a DGW
- Preparation: Build bench value 2-3 weeks before target DGW
- Target GWs: Historically GW34-37 has best DGW opportunities
- Minimum: At least 13 players with doubles for optimal value

Triple Captain Strategy

- Primary Target: Premium attacker (Haaland, Salah) in a DGW with 2 easy fixtures
- Form Check: Player should be in top form with consistent returns
- Fixture Analysis: Both DGW opponents should be FDR 2-3 (favorable)
- Avoid: Using on single GW unless truly exceptional fixture

Recommended Timing

Based on GW17 - showing only available chips.

| Chip           | Target GW | Reasoning                           |
|----------------|-----------|-------------------------------------|
| Free Hit 1     | Next BGW  | Team gaps during blanks             |
| Bench Boost    | DGW34-37  | Maximum doubles opportunity         |
| Triple Captain | Next DGW  | Premium player with 2 easy fixtures |
